The Waldo County Veteran Association, previously announced, will meet today, Nov. 7th, with E. M. Billings Post, Monroe.

At the November meeting of the directors of the Home for Aged Women a vote of thanks was extended to William F. Bean for the gift of $5.

There will be a social dance at Seaside beach hall to-morrow, Friday, evening with music by the Quintette. Admission: Gent's, 35 cents; ladies, 10 cents.

Hallowe'en was observed in the usual way by the children, and their elders indulged in various social festivities from house to Hallowe'en games, followed by refreshments.

Noyes K. Wentworth has sold his farm at Moor's Mills to Mrs. Lucy A. Redman of Brooklin and the steamer Castine made a special trip to Brooklin last week to bring up the Redman family and their household goods.

The dance given under the auspices of the Y. M. A. Athletic Association last Friday evening in Odd Fellows' Hall was in every way successful. The Belfast Quintette furnished the music and the patronage was excellent.

The police records of Boston report the suicide last week of Charles B. Sheldon of Shirley street, Roxbury, who in despair because he feared his wife was faithless shot himself in the month with a revolver and died almost instantly.

W. C. Bryant's launch arrived from Bangor last week to be hauled out at Macomber's. Mr. Kirkpatrick's launch has been hauled out at the same place. Mr. Dodworth's yacht Caprice and Capt. T. D. Barr's Fiona are already in winter quarters there.

The ladies of the Baptist society will have a sale, supper and entertainment in the Opera House, Tuesday, Nov. 12th. The entertainment will consist of an Old Folk's concert. There will be no admission in the afternoon. Tickets to supper and entertainment, 35 cents.

Sch. Hattie C. Luce discharged at this port last week 60 tons of fertilizer for Jackon & Hall, the largest cargo of the kind ever landed in Belfast. The use of commercial fertilizer increases yearly. Successful potato growers use one ton per acre.

The Hattie C. Luce sailed Monday for Frankfort to load cut stone for New York. Ex-Mayor Lendal T. Shales has moved from Congress street to the former Rich house on High street, which had been thoroughly repaired and renovated. Daniel H. Strout, R. F. D. carrier, has moved to the house vacated by Mr. Shales, having sold his place in East Belfast to Herbert E. Bradman.

A very heavy rain storm set in last Saturday night and continued until Sunday noon. The wind blew a gale. A small schooner which had loaded lumber at Cypoint for C. E. Bicknell, Rockland, broke adrift and did some slight damage to the lower bridge. The schooner was also damaged, but sailed Monday for her destination. No other damage has been reported.

The public demonstration of electrical treatment by Prof. Caldwell last Friday evening at his rooms in the Brooks house was extremely interesting to the large number present and visibly beneficial to the subjects treated. His best advertisements are several patients with chronic cases of rheumatism and kidney troubles who are enthusiastic in praise of the treatments.

The report of the weather bureau at Portland shows that the past month was one of the coldest Octobers on record. The average temperature for the month was 46 and there are but three years on record when the temperature has gone as low as that—1889, 1895 and 1896. Like conditions have prevailed here, and many have run their furnaces or steam heat the greater part of the month who do not usually start them until well into November.

The Journal has received the November number of The Dawn, published monthly at the Connecticut School for Boys, Meriden, Conn. The work is performed by the class in printing and does them great credit. Mrs. R. C. Leonard is supervisor of the sewing room and Miss Harriet Furish supervisor of the boys' kitchen at this school. Both were formerly of Belfast, and have many friends here. Miss Furish was for many years a valued employee of The Journal.

About two years ago F. P. Hooper bought the James P. Wright farm and stock in Belfast, paying $1,000 down. The taxes for that year had been paid by Mr. Wright. A few weeks ago Hooper advertised to sell horses, carriages, household goods, etc., and also disposed of the years crops, realizing about $1,200. He then departed for parts unknown, leaving this year's taxes unpaid and other debts. It looks like a deliberately planned fraud. Mr. Wright is unable to carry on the farm himself and will sell it at a bargain.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Emma Littlefield, Cedar street, to-morrow, Friday, at 2.30 o'clock.

The headless body of a beautiful black cat lay beside the railroad track near the Upper Bridge Tuesday morning was a tragic reminder of how relentless are the wheels of progress.

The next meeting of Seaside Chautauqua Circle will be with Mrs. M. E. Hubbard, No. 4 Park street, on Monday afternoon, November 11th. The topic for study from the Chautauquan Magazine is an article entitled "As Others See Us," pages 189-208, and from the C. L. S. C. book, Races and Immigrants in America," chapter five. Roll call, paragraphs in "Highways and Byways" of the October magazine.

RETURN OF THE HUNTERS. Norman A. Read, Charles E. Brown and Chester C. Worthing arrived home Saturday night from Cedar Lake Camp, West Seboeis, where they had spent two weeks. Wilbur R. Blodgett, who spent the first week with them, had returned previously, and the two other members of the party, Arthur Read and Arthur Farwell of Portland, went on to their home. The Belfast boys brought home a bear and 5 deer out of the nine which they shot. Three deer went to Portland and one was given to the camp.

The fair and curio sale by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in the Baptist vestry Wednesday evening, Oct. 30th, was well attended and the food, aprons, fancy articles, etc., offered for sale found ready buyers. The curios exhibited were from all parts of the globe and there were many interesting relics of early days. Miss Harriet N. Millett, who was for several years a missionary in India, was dressed as a Burmese priest, and exhibited Indian relics. Mrs. Sarah E. Blake operated wool cards and Mrs. John A. Patterson, a spinning wheel. The receipts were $12.65.

GET A CAT. We clip the following blood-curdling, hair-raising item from the Belfast correspondence of the Bangor Commercial:

The large rats are becoming a public nuisance. They are getting into the houses more than ever this fall. At one of the houses on Church street, where the owner has a horse in the barn that he has been detecting his hoof with salve, it was found one morning recently that a large rat had eaten the salve off the hoof and had also bitten the horse's foot. The next morning the rat was found under the horse, having evidently been stepped upon and killed. Since the case of the Mendall child being bitten by a large rat, the people are becoming a little more alarmed over their appearance and ferocity.

List of unclaimed letters remaining in the Belfast post office for the week ending Nov. 6th: Miss M. S. Bassick, Miss Florence Brown, Miss Alice Crocker, Mrs. D. A. Carpenter, Mrs. Eva M. Klotzbach, Mrs. Rosie E. Robbins, Emma L. Wadlin, Miss Bernice Woodbury, James Black & Co., Geo. H. Drake, Cressy Duckham & Co., John T. Franklin, Charles F. French, A. W. Gladding, T. H. Gray, W. J. Howard, George Asher Johnson, Wm. Liddell & Co., Konstantine Luzo, Geo. A. Lamartore, Geo. Nulton, Chester E. Pike, Sojims Rogers, F. E. Rosendorf, E. H. Stetson, Henry C. Seamans, A. D. Shedman, Elmer E. Thompson, Mr. L. Weinfield, Dr. C. C. Williams, A. A. Winslow, W. A. White.

CHANGE IN MANAGEMENT. The Dexter correspondent of the Bangor Commercial reports a change in the management of the electric light plant in that town, and it is understood that the change also applies to the Belfast Gas & Electric Co. The Commercial correspondent says:

Richard P. Jenks of Providence, R. I., has assumed charge of the plant of the Dexter Electric Co. and is also now at the head of the various other electric lighting companies throughout the State. Mr. Jenks is an experienced engineer and it is the intention to make every improvement possible under the new management. He is now in town and on Wednesday and Thursday was busy engaged in making an inspection of the local plant. This change in the management of the Fletcher plants was what gave rise to the report that Mr. Fletcher had disposed of his interest in the Dexter company. A new local manager will soon be selected to succeed W. E. Haseltine, who has accepted a good position in Raleigh, S. C. One of the changes that the company intends to make is to shift the Main street wires from the street poles to poles in the rear of the business blocks. This will relieve the congestion of wires on the street and it is thought will improve things generally.

TWO CONCERTS. The second entertainment in the Bradbury concert course was given in the Opera House Wednesday evening, Oct. 30th, by the Hawthorne Musical Club to a well-filled house. The four club members were adepts in the use of a large number of musical instruments and the varied program was well received. Willis Ray was specially versatile, and one number of the program was made up of selections played by him on a mandolin, xylophone, banjo, and single and double ocarinas. The two descriptive selections were amusing and the Swiss bell ringing skiff. The last in the series of concerts was given Tuesday evening by the Honolulu Students and was undoubtedly the most successful of the course from an artistic and a material standpoint. The orchestral, instrumental and vocal selections by the seven members of the company were largely characteristic native music, and were greatly enjoyed both for their beauty and novelty. The colored views shown were beautiful in the extreme and were managed most cleverly to give a dissolving effect. The two scenes where the sunset and moonrise were introduced were especially fine, and in all the pictures the tropical coloring was portrayed to perfection. The house was a large one, and everyone was enthusiastic over the evening's novel entertainment, which completes the course for which our music lovers are indebted to Mr. Charles Bradbury.

A "TIN SHOWER." The Belfast correspondent of the Bangor Daily News has this to say of a local surprise party: One of the most delightful social events of the week was the "tin" shower given by Mrs. S. A. Parker at her home on Cedar street in honor of Miss Lena Peirce Ellis, whose engagement to Mr. Frederick A. Johnson was announced recently. The wedding will take place this winter. The affair yesterday was a complete surprise to the guests of honor, who were simply asked to spend the afternoon and evening sewing. As the other guests arrived their packages were hastily hidden by the hostess and it was not until later in the afternoon, when a large Jack-Horner was set before her that Miss Ellis realized that it "looked like rain." A note on top of the pie instructed her to look inside and she found various shapes, styles and sizes of packages addressed to her and with each an appropriate verse. These she untied and displayed and read aloud the original verses to the great amusement of the other guests. After this there was a guessing contest, the answers being found in the names of kitchen utensils. In this Miss Ellis won first prize, a potted fern, and Miss Ellis the trophy—a single rose. About 5 o'clock dainty refreshments were served. During the afternoon Carol, the little son of the hostess, entertained several little tots who enjoyed the party as much as the "grown-ups." Under the skillful management of Miss Maude Ellis they were taught to make all sorts of things out of tissue paper and had a wonderful time. Miss Ellis received some very useful gifts which will always remind her of a very pleasant event and of the loving friends who made it possible.

Sargent; Acot., John S. Davidson. H. E. McDonald and party, who are at Freese's Camps, 12 miles above Katahdin Iron Works, were heard from a few days ago and had then secured no game. Mr. McDonald is expected to return next Saturday.

The teachers will be very grateful if citizens having second-hand clothing which can be used for the needy schoolchildren will leave it at the Superintendent's office. If this is not possible, any teacher on being notified, will attend to the same. It is hoped that by this means the Teachers' Charity Fund may last for the current school year without further soliciting.

Ed Ellis has recently loaded six vessels at the Cypoint wharves with boards from his saw mill in Brooks. The old Oris & Ferguson wharf, now owned by Levi Clay, is in fairly good condition, and the sight of it piled high with boards, with two vessels loading and others passing up or down the river, gives the vicinity an air of old time prosperity, and reminds one of the days when hay, granite, staves, barrels, wood and bark were shipped in this way, and the place was an active business center.

UNITY. The wedding of Miss Nellie York and Jack Van Deets, both of this town, took place Oct. 22d at the residence of J. C. Lamb in West Troy. The arrangements were kept so quiet that only a few knew of its occurrence. The ceremony was performed at high noon, Rev. J. C. Lamb officiating and using the ring service. The bride was very tastefully dressed in a blue princess gown and carried beautiful roses. Mrs. Frank Ross, sister of the groom, attended the bride. The happy couple left on the early afternoon train for Old Town where they visited relatives. They were children together, and schoolmates, and always warm friends. The bride is the daughter of Edward York and is an estimable young lady and a good dressmaker. The groom is a good-natured, accommodating young man and has employment in H. P. Woods & Sons creamery here. Mr. and Mrs. Van Deets were the recipients of many handsome and useful gifts and have many friends, who extend congratulations and best wishes. After a short stay in Old Town they will return and reside with his mother, Mrs. L. Van Deets.

FURIOUS ITCHING HUMOR ON CHILD

Bleeding Sores Covered Her Whole Body After an Attack of Measles—Nursed Every Night for Three Weeks—Nothing Helped Her.

THEN CUTICURA MAKES COMPLETE CURE IN 5 DAYS

"It is in my opinion my duty to join those who praise the Cuticura Remedies. After my granddaughter of about seven years had been cured of the measles, she was attacked about a fortnight later by a furious, itching and painful eruption all over her body, especially the upper part of it. I formed a g watery and bleeding sores, especially under the arms, of considerable size. She suffered a great deal and for three weeks we nursed her every night, using all the remedies we could think of. Nothing would help. We then remembered having heard so much about Cuticura Remedies. We sent for them and after twenty-four hours we noted considerable improvement, and, after using only one complete set of the Cuticura Remedies, in five consecutive days the little one, much to our joy, had been entirely cured, and has been well for a long time. Mrs. F. Ruefenacht, R. P. D. 3, Bakersfield, Cal., June 25 and July 20, 1906."
